Therein lies the life of the lily
She bloomed out of nowhere Desired yet unexpected She sang out happily with all her sass and warmth Influenced by the buds that bloomed before her Ever changing
She lived out loud, though unheard
She learned to love from the love she received Learned to cherish from appreciation and grew to admire her admirers

Therein lies the life of the lily
One spent adjusting and adapting with woes and wails she expressed through melodies rather than words, giving rather than taking with a smile that shadowed the weight of burdens Always the half crescent moon on her lips

Therein lies the life of the lily
And she couldn't have asked for a better one
